To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing regarding Ilya Prokhorov's application for iOS developer position in your company.

I, Alexey Serpukhovitov, being the head of mobile in the venture fund "Key Group LLC" (key-g.com) in 2018-2020, worked with Ilya Prokhorov for 2 years when he was a senior iOS developer in my product development team. During this period, he performed the duties of developing brand new GetRentaCar iOS app (getrentacar.com, a service for P2P cars and bikes leasing) and maintained GetTransfer iOS app (Gettransfer.com, long distance car rides and airport transfers).

Ilya is a unique and valuable employee due to his proficiency in Swift and Objective-C programming languages (some projects contained some legacy code), his attention to details and passion for technology. He was always a very responsible and hardworking employee who could quickly adapt to new tasks and solve problems. He impressed our team from the first day we met, on remote interview, where Ilya presented his deep knowledge in programming and computer science.

Ilya made a significant contribution to our company products, and I would like to highlight his efforts for GetRentaCar iOS application, where he took the leading role for architecture and product development. Gettransfer iOS app, where Ilya provided new features development, support and communication with backend team. These products were launched with high quality and was critical for our company.

I recommend Ilya as a valuable employee who will be an excellent addition to any company. I am confident that he will not only perform his duties but also become a valuable member of your team.

Best regards,

Alexey Serpukhovitov,
